

My brother developed a shoe that showed resistance to gravity. What a man! Michael gave so much to the world; people didn't understand his pain when the world started taking it back. He built a home that would provide a place where children who were ill and paralyzed could come find peace, enjoy the outside air and watch movies.

My brother is in the Guinness Book of World Records for giving large portions of donations to numerous charities. He gave and he never thought twice. I watched the light in Michael's eyes fade as he faced trials and tribulations for being misunderstood. Michael kept going with a smile and a grace of simply keeping what he stands for and believes in. Michael has left me and my brothers a legacy, a part of us being a part of history. I am proud to be his big brother, I am proud to have watched his talent succeed above all!

I love him. Michael is with me always. We will carry the light and make the light shine again for Michael and the world. Tito

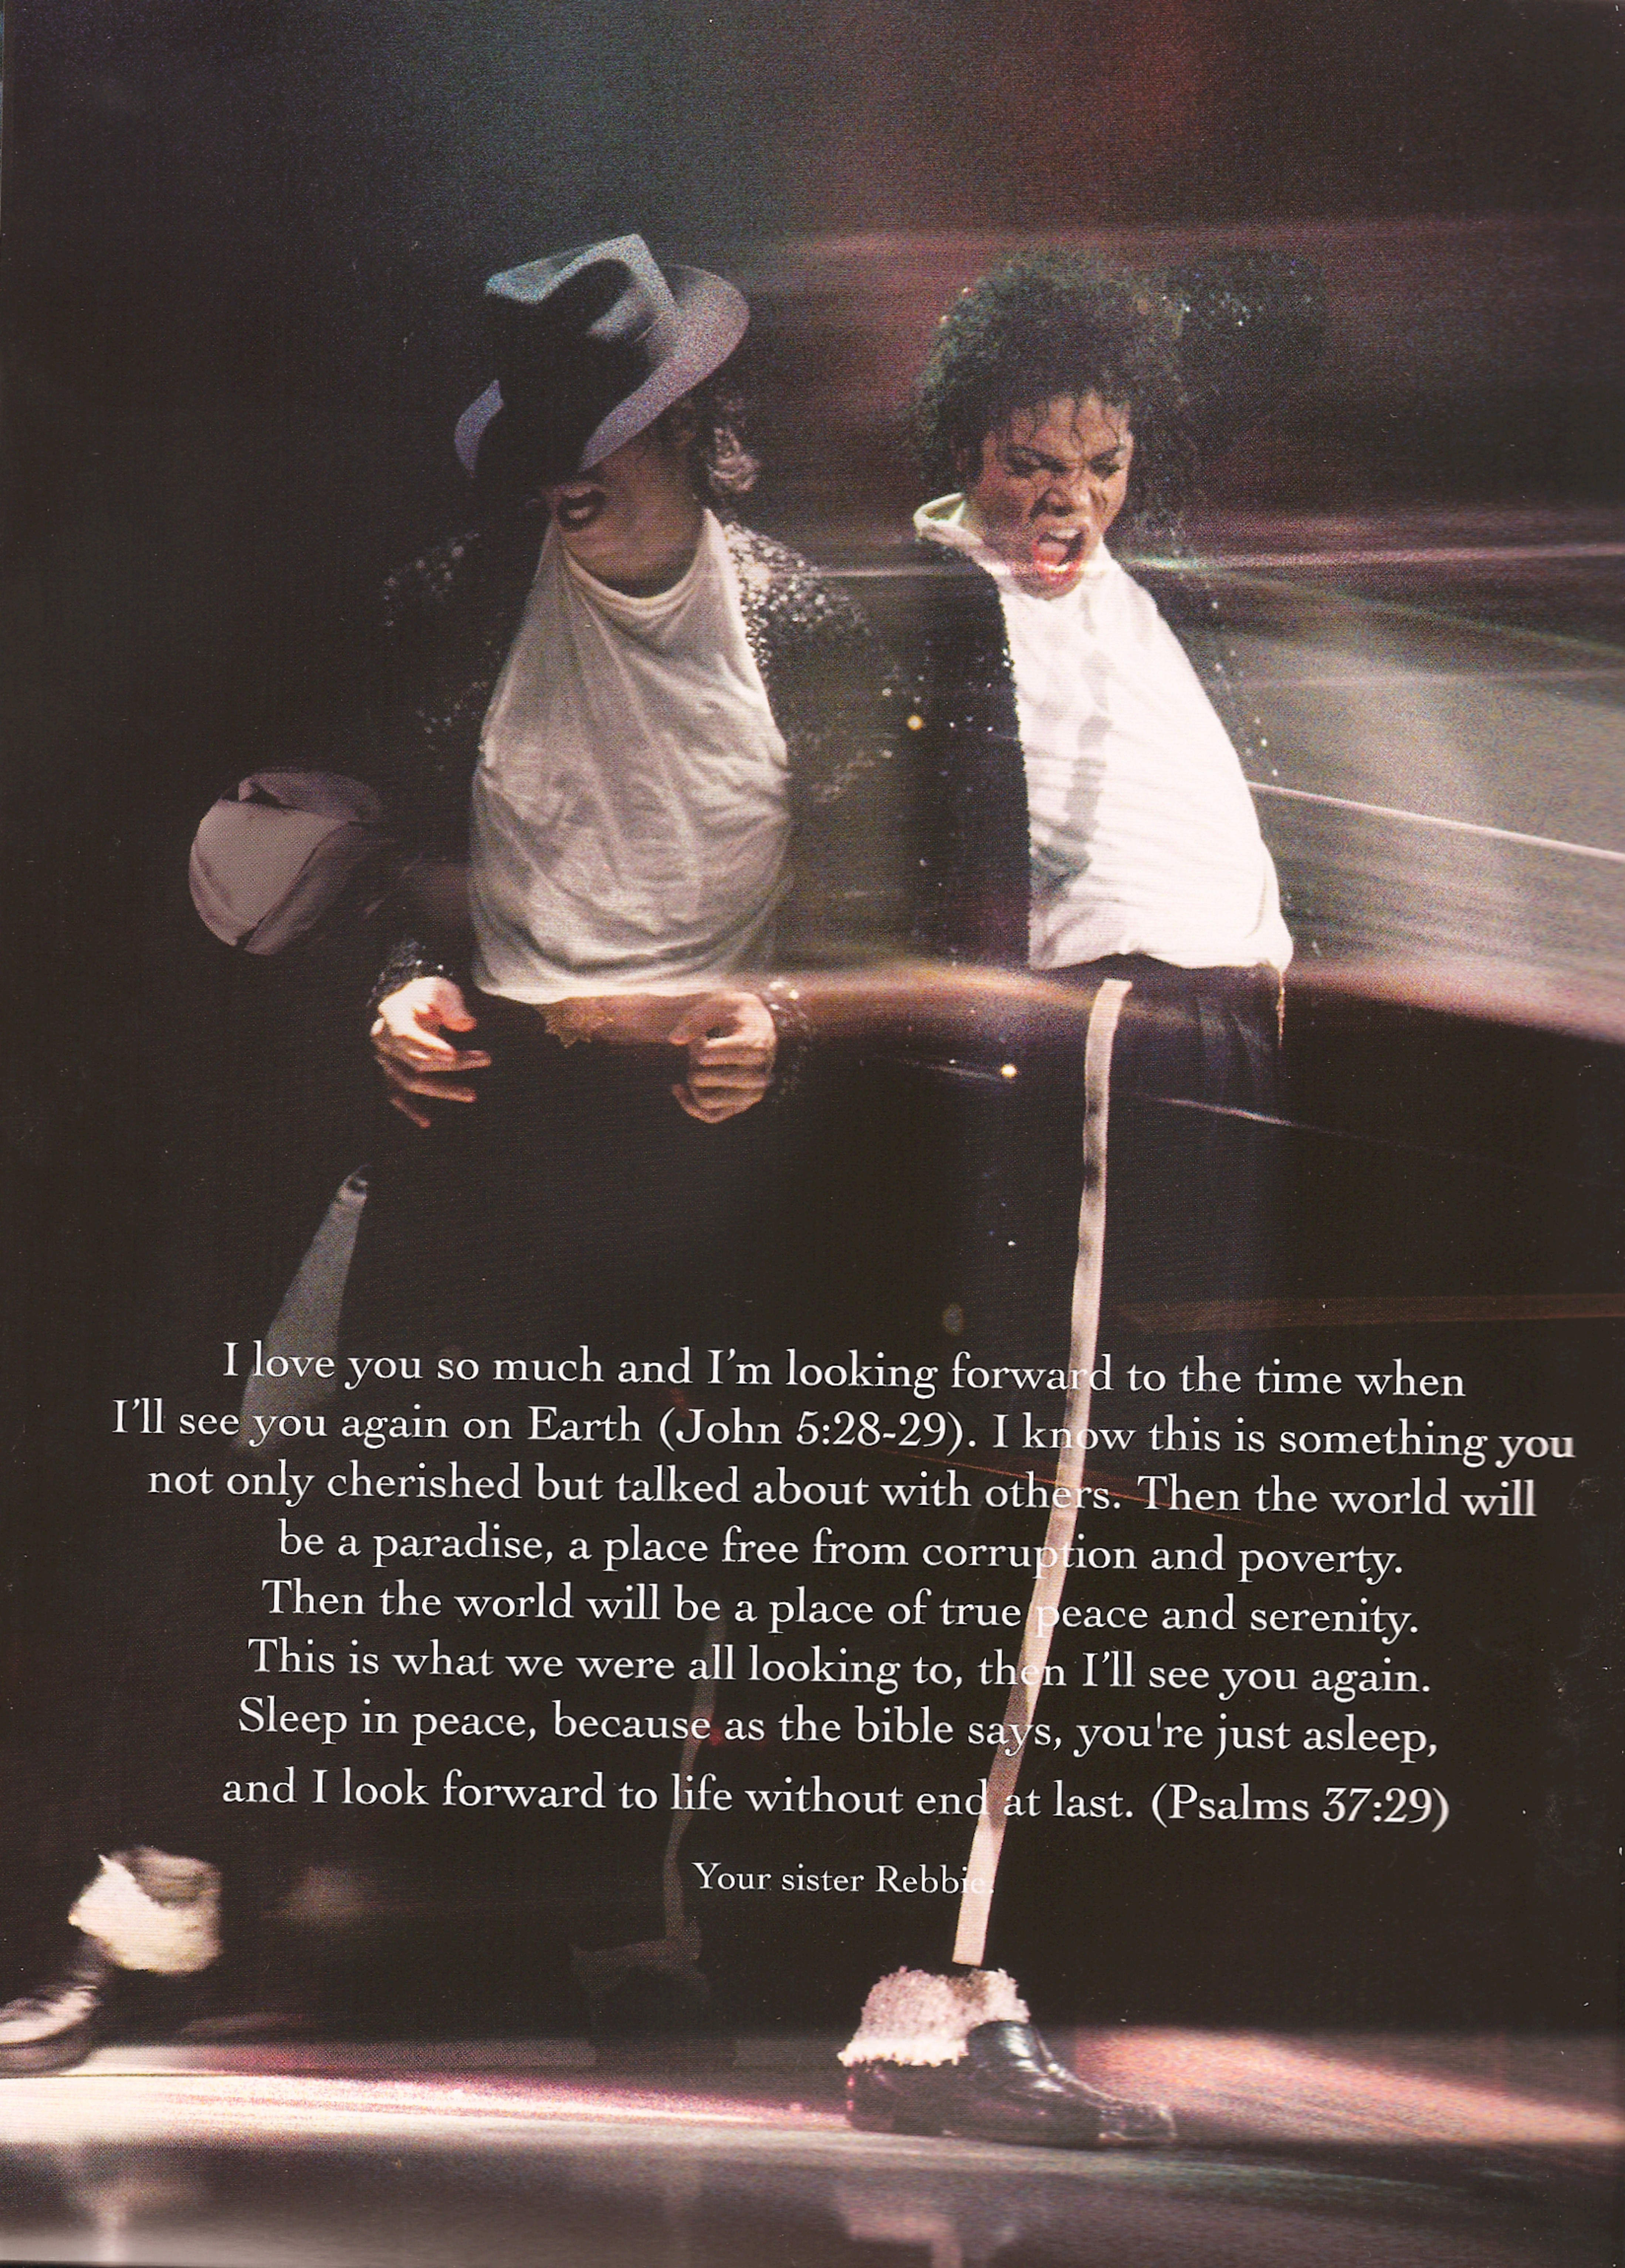

A photograph of Michael Jackson and his twin brother Prince performing on stage. Michael Jackson, on the right, is wearing a white t-shirt and a black jacket, with his mouth open in a shout or song. Prince, on the left, is wearing a white t-shirt, a black jacket, and a black hat. They are both holding a long, thin, light-colored stick or wand. The background is dark with some stage lighting.

I love you so much and I'm looking forward to the time when I'll see you again on Earth (John 5:28-29). I know this is something you not only cherished but talked about with others. Then the world will be a paradise, a place free from corruption and poverty. Then the world will be a place of true peace and serenity. This is what we were all looking to, then I'll see you again. Sleep in peace, because as the bible says, you're just asleep, and I look forward to life without end at last. (Psalms 37:29)

Your sister Rebbie